House Okays Ike's Foreign Aid Program

Washington (AP)—Strong Democratic support gave President Eisenhower a vote of confidence yesterday when the House approved without change a $4,998,732,500 foreign aid program for the coming year.

The roll call vote on final passage was 280 to 108.

Voting for the bill were 160 Democrats, 119 Republicans and one independent. Against it were 81 Republicans and 27 Democrats.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

Democratic votes enabled GOP leaders to beat down more than a dozen attempts to cut the bill up to a half billion dollars. Almost all of these amendments were offered by Republicans, and half of the Republicans present supported proposed major reductions.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), leading the administration fight, had called the bill a test of congressional confidence in the President's foreign policy.

West Germans Raid Reds In American Zone

Berlin (AP)—A crowd of 2,000 Germans, aroused by events in East Germany, raided a Communist (Socialist Unity) party office in the U. S. sector late yesterday and forced several Red officials to flee through a back door.

Furniture, propaganda publications and pictures of Stalin and Communist East German leaders were thrown in the street and burned. West Berlin police reported they made no arrests.

The outbreak developed as a wave of arrests by the Communist people's police spurred rebellious East Germans back to work.

Tension increased last night when Communist police shot a West Berlin businessman as he unwittingly stepped into Soviet territory near Potsdamer Platz.

The victim, Karl Wilhelm Kindel, 27, ran back to the West, a bullet hole in his arm.

Runaway Truck Rams Into Two Other Vehicles; Four Members Of One Family Hurt

Four persons from one family were injured at 8:55 last night in a Foxtown Hill smashup involving a brakeless, runaway transport truck and three other vehicles.

One of the four injured—a five-month-old baby girl—was in "critical condition" in General Hospital last night where authorities said she was suffering from multiple skull fractures.

The injured were: Walter Macon Sr., driver of the pickup truck which was struck by the transport, who suffered a left thigh bruise;

His wife, Mrs. Ann Macon, with multiple body cuts, a fractured left kneecap, and a possible fractured rib;

Their daughter, Marjorie, 5 months, with multiple fractures of the skull;

Her brother, Walter Jr., aged 17 months, who was apparently not seriously injured in the accident.

All members of the Macon family live in Bayonne, N. J. They were traveling toward Stroudsburg on Route 611 when the wreck occurred.

Driver of the transport, loaded with two tons of bakery cakes and about one and one-half tons of groceries, was Henry H. Allen, 53, S. Salem St., Dover, N. J.

Allen told Stroudsburg State Trooper Pete Walsh he had been driving 33 years or more than one million miles and had never had an accident.

Allen gave Pfc. Walsh this version of the multiple accident:

"I was coming from Kingston on my way to Dover. I came out of Stroudsburg, over the top of Foxtown Hill. As I came over the top of the hill, I was in second gear. Over the top, I pulled into third gear, then, shifting into fourth discovered I had no brakes."

"I wasn't going over 25 miles per hour at that time," Allen said. "Trying to shift back into third gear, the two-speed rear jumped out of gear, automatically releasing the brakes and the clutch."

"So I says to this fellow (Charles E. Mann, same address, Dover, a passenger in the truck) grab the emergency."

"He rode the emergency (but) it burned out," the truck driver continued.

"Then, Allen told police, he 'saw a white tank truck ahead.' 'I tried to get on his left side to wedge myself on him. I was in the middle lane.'"

Allen stayed alongside the tank truck, which he believed to be a milk tanker, "for maybe 100 feet . . . blowing my horn all the time." The tank truck speeded up, Allen said.

The other vehicles in the crash were coming up Foxtown Hill toward Stroudsburg. Both were apparently in the process of passing another large truck on the hill which curves gradually upward.

"On the curve they couldn't see me coming down," Allen told police. "That's when we hit. I imagine I hit the car first, then that slammed me off into the pickup truck."

The car was driven by Wilford K. Morgan, 78 Oliver St., Wilkes-Barre. Morgan's wife suffered a bruised knee and face and possible other injuries.

In the rear of the small truck there was a baby carriage. Mrs. Macon was holding the child in her arms when the wreck occurred.

"When I hit the (pickup) truck the driver of the tank truck slapped on his brakes. I went in front of him and ran into the guard rail," Allen continued.

The New Jersey truck smashed into the railing, tore off three of the short posts and stretched the steel cable taut under the right front fender.

Reds Demand Recovery Of 26,000 PWs

Munsan, Saturday (AP)—The Communists today demanded immediate recovery of 26,000 North Korean prisoners of war freed on order of President Syngman Rhee and asked for an indefinite recess in the Korean armistice negotiations.

Their demand was made in a plenary truce session at Panmunjom in a strongly-worded protest which charged that the United Nations Command deliberately connived with Rhee to free the prisoners.

"The United Nations must bear the serious responsibility for this incident," said the Communist protest. It was signed by North Korean Marshal Kim Il Sung and Red Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai.

The Red protest did not break off the armistice talks. But it dealt a telling blow to the prospects of a few days ago for an immediate truce.

South Korean guards acting on Rhee's orders permitted and aided mass breakouts Thursday and Friday from six big stockades. The government urged the entire South Korean population to help the prisoners make good their escape.

President Eisenhower rebuked Rhee. World opinion mounted against the fiery South Korean leader who had abruptly and arbitrarily confronted the truce talks with a new crisis.

It came when an armistice was all but sealed in the three-year Korean war.

U. S. officials in Washington had no immediate comment on the Communist demand for recapture of the released prisoners, but indicated they had expected a strong protest.

"Is the U. N. able to control the South Korean government and asked."

"If not, does the armistice in Korea include the Syngman Rhee clique?"

"If it is not included, what assurance is there for implementation of the armistice agreement on the part of South Korea?"

Rhee was meeting with his cabinet in Seoul even as the Reds were making their protest at Panmunjom.

The Communists said flatly that if the Rhee government were included in any armistice pact, then the Allies "must be responsible for recovery immediately" of the 26,000 escaped North Korean POWs.

Further, the Reds demanded, "your side must give assurance that similar incidents absolutely will not occur in the future."

August Draft Call Lowered To 1,410

Harrisburg, (AP)—Pennsylvania's draft call for August was set yesterday by state selective service headquarters at 1,410 men, the lowest call since last September.

Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, state selective service head, said as many 20-year-olds as possible will be called before any 19-year-olds boys are summoned.

"As long as the draft calls for Pennsylvania hang around the 1,500 mark the state as a whole is able to meet its monthly quota from men reaching the age of 19 years and nine months," Gross told newsmen.

Court, White House Both Refuse To Save A-Spies

Washington, (AP)—Supreme Court and White House sternly and repeatedly refused yesterday to save atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg from paying with their lives for treachery to their country.

Then at last, day turned to dusk, and time and life ran out for the husband and wife convicted of betraying atomic secrets to Russia. They died last night, in the electric chair, in Sing Sing Prison's forbidding Death House.

President Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Brownell both "stood by" in Washington as the sands trickled through the hour glass. They apparently were ready to halt the execution only if the Rosenbergs agreed to confess and disclose the whole story of intrigue in the espionage ring they served. But man and wife in turn went silently to their death.

Through two years of legal jockeying since their conviction, the

Atom Spies Remain Silent, Emotionless In Last Hours

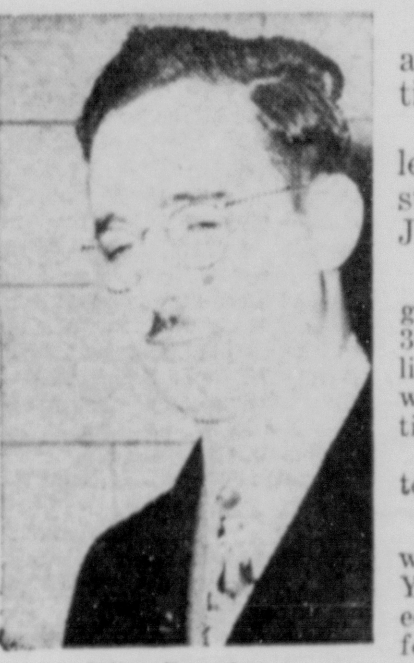

By RELMAN MORIN

Ossining, N. Y. (AP)—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, silent and without emotion, died in the electric chair last night for betraying atomic bomb secrets to Russia.

Julius, treading firmly and unsupported by guards, entered the Sing Sing death chamber first, at 8:04 p. m., as a chaplain intoned the 23rd Psalm by his side. Two minutes later he was pronounced dead.

(An Editorial) A Free Democracy's Justice!

A just penalty was paid last night by Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted spies, for betrayal of their country.

Throughout the whole pattern of their arrest, their trial, the numerous appeals after conviction and the so-called demonstrations, one fact has been paramount—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg did not lack anything in the way of legal and constitutional rights to test their conviction.

They had everything, and they could only have had it in the nation which they betrayed.

Mr. Associate Justice William O. Douglas, who in our opinion is one of the ablest justices of the Supreme Court, gave the Rosenbergs their final chance to test the workings of a free democracy. They lost justly to the majority decision of the whole Supreme Court.

We say, without reservation, we have no pity for the Rosenbergs. They reaped what they sowed.

Whatever pity may exist should go out to those tools of hysteria who jammed trains to Washington, D. C. Thursday for a demonstration while the Supreme Court met—a demonstration which was carefully carried out according to printed instructions given many of them.

There were those who claimed a basic opposition to capital punishment in general. To those people we wish to point up that the nation which reaped the benefits of the Rosenberg betrayal—the obvious first love of the Rosenbergs—believe thoroughly in capital punishment without trial, without appeal, without even preliminary.

We do not question their sincerity about capital punishment. We just believe they are placing their right to question betrayal of a free democracy on the block of a foible.

The Rosenbergs reaped their own agony and delay. They can never be martyrs except in the eyes of those who can never be wholly true Americans—and that, too, is a grim, self-wrought justice for those who treat lightly the freedoms and protections given them under a free democracy.

This final thought should be sobering to those who were so wildly impatient and intolerant of the workings of a free democracy as to cry out against the "delay" in bringing the Rosenbergs to justice.

The processes of a free democracy are never slow—they are very simply thorough and above all, just.

His wife was then led in, at 8:11 and she was dead at 8:16, just 15 minutes before the last rays of the setting sun betokened the start of the Hebrew Sabbath.

Their deaths ended a frenzied day of dramatic legal moves after the Supreme Court had voided a stay of execution previously granted by Associate Judge William O. Douglas.

There was no demonstration outside the walls of the grim fortress prison on the banks of the Hudson River, but 30 miles away in New York City, the Rosenbergs' home, police stopped a mass meeting of 5,000 persons as a hysterical wave of screaming and shouting arose as the hour of execution arrived.

The Rosenbergs were the first civilians in American history to die for espionage.

The day's dramatic efforts to save the couple—there were nine appeals by lawyers to jurists in Washington, New York and New Haven for stays after the Supreme Court acted—were climaxed as President Eisenhower rejected a plea for clemency with a sharply worded statement.

"I can only say," said Eisenhower, "that by immeasurably increasing the chances of atomic war, the Rosenbergs may have condemned to death tens of millions of innocent people all over the world."

As the Rosenbergs, their final reprieve gone, entered the death chamber, their two sons, Michael, 10, and Robert, 6, were being cared for by family friends at Toms River, N. J., 100 miles away.

Julius died after three jolts. He was placed in the chair at 8:04 p.m. and was pronounced dead two and three-quarter minutes later. His wife, however, required five jolts, and the time was 4½ minutes.

The pair, who maintained an unemotional front throughout the day, went to their deaths a day after their 14th wedding anniversary.

As Mrs. Rosenberg entered the death chamber she was accompanied by Mrs. Helen Evans, prison matron, and Mrs. Lucy Many, a telephone operator.

Mrs. Rosenberg turned just before she was placed in the electric chair, drew Mrs. Evans toward her and they kissed.

The matron was visibly affected. She quickly turned and, with Mrs. Many, left the chamber.

The Rosenbergs displayed no emotion whatever.

At 8 p.m., the voice of Rabbi Irving Koslowe could be heard in the corridor leading to the death chamber.

He was intoning the 23rd Psalm. "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

"Though I walk in the shadow of death, I shall fear no evil."

The Rabbi was in his rabbinical robe.

Rosenberg, wearing dark brown trousers and a white undershirt and slipper-like shoes, followed him.

Rosenberg was not supported by the guards.

His step was steady.

Without his glasses, his eyes seemed to be staring blankly, without recognizing anything in the room.

The leather mask covering his face, the helmet over his head and the electrodes to his right leg were then attached.

The convicted spy sat quietly, awaiting the charge that was to send him to his doom.

In an alcove off to the side of the death chamber, Joseph Francis, the executioner, awaited the signal.

When it came, there was a rattle and a hum in the otherwise deathly still room.

Rosenberg's chest strained hard against the straps that held him. His fist clenched.

His neck and chest turned red. Then, he slumped visibly.

The first shock lasted three seconds. The two following lasted 57 seconds each.

Each time the straps were strained as his body pressed hard against them.

Then the strange sound, a blend of humming and buzzing, ceased in the room.

Two doctors, Dr. H. W. Kipp and Dr. George McCracken, stepped forward.

They tore the undershirt covering Rosenberg's chest. The two physicians applied stethoscopes and Dr. Kipp said:

"I pronounce this man dead."

In death, Rosenberg's face had the same staring, wondering expression that he had worn when he walked into the chamber.

His body was placed on a white, wheeled hospital table and quickly removed.

Again the room was silent.

There were 10 witnesses, counting the three newspapermen, present.

A moment later the low voice of Rabbi Koslowe again could be heard.

He walked slowly ahead of Mrs. Rosenberg. He was intoning the 15th and 31st Psalms.

His low, melodious voice was singing:

"Who shalt sojourn in Thy tabernacle."

The matron and the telephone operator were behind Mrs. Rosenberg.

The rabbi stepped aside and Mrs. Rosenberg approached the electric chair.

She took one step.

Then she turned suddenly to Mrs. Evans, held out her hand and the matron grabbed it.

The condemned woman pulled Mrs. Evans toward her and they kissed.

Mrs. Evans said a few words but her voice was too low to be intelligible.

Mrs. Rosenberg wore a shapeless green dress, with a small white pattern.

The neck was round and open and the sleeves were short.

She also wore slippers on her feet.

A plump woman, her face was full.

Her small mouth seemed twisted, whether into a smile or a sneer was impossible to say.

She sat down calmly in the chair and let her arms drop limply on the arms of the chair.

She winced slightly when the electrode helmet was attached to her head.

Her head was not shaved but only clipped.

The straps were then placed over her face and chest.

Her legs were bare. The electrodes were attached to the right leg.

In the room the rabbi stood, praying in whispers.

From time to time he kissed his prayer book. He did not look at either the condemned man or woman when the electricity was thrown into their bodies.

Again, there was the seemingly long moment before the executioner threw the switch.

As the charge crashed into her body, Mrs. Rosenberg seemed to strain hard against the straps.

Her hands, which had been lying limp and open, clenched.

Like her husband, she received three jolts of three seconds, 57 seconds and 57 seconds.

When they were over and the current was cut, she slumped in the chair, apparently held upright only by the straps across her chest and head.

Again, the two doctors approached the chair with their stethoscopes.

Again there was a whispered consultation between them as they moved the stethoscopes around to different parts of her chest.

Then they murmured to Warden Wilfred Denno.

The guards stepped forward and readjusted the straps.

The buzzing hum of the vast electric current sounded again in the room.

The woman's muscles seemed again to be straining against the straps.

She received two more jolts and then the doctors pronounced her dead.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Galatians 5:6.
By Newman Campbell

There are so many fine lessons to be learned in the two short chapters which bring to a close Paul's epistle to the Galatians. Doubtless many fine helpful sermons have been preached from them, and more will be.

Liberty is a word which is much bandied about in the world today. We all desire liberty for ourselves, and theoretically for all humanity. However, when we have it, do we always use it for our good or for the good of others? Liberty is not license. Children whose parents give them a great deal of liberty may use it for doing lawless and destructive acts, and we adults often fall into the same fault.

Paul writes to the Galatians: "Ye have been called unto liberty: only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

"Walk in the Spirit," Paul urges the Galatians, "and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh."

From childhood to old age human beings are in constant warfare within themselves—between the desire to do what is right and the urge to do what pleases them in a purely physical sense.

Paul lists a large number of "works of the flesh"; which we must avoid if we would inherit the kingdom of God: Among them are: idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law."

How much more appealing is the list of virtues if we can only attain them. The man, woman or child who lives as Paul (and Jesus) would have us, would experience liberty and happiness. His would be a successful life, if he was either just a common person or a world-famous one.

Ending the fifth chapter to his friends in Galatia, Paul writes: "Let us not be desirous of vain

65,000 Methodists To Rally June 28 In Franklin Field; Fred Waring To Direct Choir

Philadelphia—More than 5,000 laymen and ministers will come here from every State June 28 as delegates to the World Methodist Convocation on Evangelism.

Thousands of other Methodists of the Philadelphia area are expected to swell the crowd to 65,000 for a mass rally Sunday, June 28, to commemorate the 250th birthday anniversary of John Wesley, British founder of Methodism.

The rally also will signal the start of a national evangelistic campaign by 40,000 Methodist churches to win 250,000 new members by December. Methodists of other countries also have declared 1953 a "special year of evangelism."

Eight eminent American churchmen are among program principals, Bishop W. Angell Smith, Oklahoma City, is convocation chairman, and host Bishop Fred P. Corson, Philadelphia, is vice chairman.

Speakers include Bishop W. C. Martin, Dallas, Tex., president of both the National Council of Churches and the Methodist Council of Bishops; Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Washington, D. C.; Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, St. Louis, executive committee chairman of the World Methodist Council; Dr. Neils F. S. Ferre of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary to India, and Dr. Harry Denman, a layman who is executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Evangelism, Nashville.

Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Atlanta, Ga., will preach twice at special Sunday services at St. George's Church, one of the oldest Methodist churches in the country.

Four British Methodist leaders also will address the convocation. They are: Dr. E. Benson Perkins, a secretary of the World Methodist Council; Dr. Maldwyn L. Edwards, church historian and Birmingham minister; Dr. Dorothy Farrar, head of Doncaster College at Bileby, and Dr. Harold Roberts, Richmond College of London University, and vice president of the World Methodist Council.

Fred Waring, orchestra leader, will direct a 5,000-voice choir at the closing rally at Franklin Field.

Father's Day will be observed in the Sunday School and morning worship service of the Berean Menomone Brethren in Church Church, tomorrow. The pastor, Rev. Earl M. Hosler, will speak on "Abraham, a Godly Father."

Rev. Russell Allen of Quakertown, Pa., will be the guest speaker in the service at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Allen, a graduate of Muhlenberg College, will take over his first pastorate at Finesville, N. J., in the near future. This is the most recent extension work of the M. B. C. Church. Mrs. Allen, trained vocalist, will sing a special selection.

glory, provoking one another, envying one another." Many of my readers have probably had my experience of feeling rather envious of some one, only to find, when I knew that person better, that his lot was less to be envied than mine.

Beginning chapter six, Paul advises that "if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted."

How easy it is to condemn those who do wrong. What does Shakespeare say: "I will chide no breather in the world but myself, 'gainst whom I know most faults." Jesus forgave sinners and He Himself was sinless. We, who are full of faults, surely should be expected to be gentle with others who slip.

"Bear ye one another's burdens," writes Paul, "and so fulfill the law of Christ."

"For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For every man shall bear his own burden."

"And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we will reap, if we faint not."

"As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith."

We find this motto in our note book boxed and in large type: "A Christian is a Mind through which Christ thinks; a Heart through which Christ loves; a Voice through which Christ speaks; a Hand through which Christ helps." Are you a Christian? Few can qualify—at least all the time.

This Sunday, June 21, is Father's Day. Hall to all good fathers and may they have a happy day. Following St. Paul's advice to the Galatians should help a man to be a good father indeed.

MEMORY VERSE:—"For ye brethren, were called for freedom; only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love be servants one to another"—Galatians 5:13.

Atomic Force Question Posed

The following question will be answered Sunday when it is the subject of the Bible Lesson to be read in all Christian Science churches: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

The answer is indicated in the Golden Text, the first verse of the 24th Psalm: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein"—also, in one of the many Scriptural selections of which the following is one: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children." (Psalms 90:1, 16).

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, continues the answer: "The substance, Life, intelligence, Truth, and Love, which constitute Deity, are reflected by His creation; and when we subordinate the false testimony of the corporeal senses to the facts of Science, we shall see this true likeness and reflection everywhere." (316:4).

Chestnuthill, Pocono Bible Schools Hold Final Sessions; Dates Selected At Paradise

Brodheadsville—The final program of the Community Vacation Church School was presented Friday morning in the Chestnuthill School auditorium to a large group of parents and friends. Some 162 children had been enrolled for the past two weeks. The program was an attempt to give a picture of what happened in the regular school routine each day.

The children displayed the hand-work they made and sang the hymns they had learned. One of the projects during the school was the collecting of used clothing, soap, toys and other articles for Church Service Overseas.

Teachers and assistants included Barbara Altomere, Jeanette Saxe, Ann Dorshimer, Frances Elwine, Shirley Adams, Ruth Treible, Patricia Albright, Janet Tomic, Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer, Arlene Serfass, Doris Rinker, Mrs. Henry Hoffman, Mrs. Alton Albright, and the co-operating ministers, Rev. John Bergstresser, Rev. James Laubach and Rev. Alton Albright.

Tannersville—The Daily Vacation Bible School for District 3 closed its sessions last night with a public program at Pocono Township school. Each class gave a ten-minute program illustrating the work done during the past two weeks at the school.

A brief report of the work done and of the staff participating was made by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Horn, director of the school for 1953. The treasurer of this District 3 S. S. Association reported on the finances.

The school has had a total pupil enrollment of 193 and a staff of teachers, assistants and administrators numbering 32. Pupils are distributed in the following classes: Nursery, 39; Beginners, 45; Primary, 37; Juniors, 65; Intermediates, 7. Teachers and assistants, 26; and 6 in the administration.

Paradise—Daily Vacation Bible School will open here July 6 and continue daily until July 17, it was decided when parishioners of the Paradise charge met at the parsonage.

Miss Mildred Deacon and Miss Geraldine Janner will have charge of the school this year.

Classes will be held the first week in Pocono Union Church and the concluding week in Keokuk Chapel. Sessions will occur from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Monday through Friday.

THE JOY OF LIVING

Ever notice how some people associate the joy of living with moments of care-free relaxation, while others seem to find equal happiness in both work and leisure?

Which seems most natural? Was man created with the capacity for finding happiness in his spare time only or was he endowed with a genius for reaping joy from both work and play?

Before anyone surrenders to the cynicism of the first theory, he owes it to himself, his neighbors and his God to give the second a real try.

For centuries the Church has been helping men to discover the deep and lasting joy of purposeful living. When your life has a purpose, linked to the Purpose of God . . . then every day reveals anew the joy of living!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Food Handler's X-Ray

A county-wide X-ray of food handlers has again been set up by Monroe County Tuberculosis Society with the cooperation of the Monroe County Medical Society.

All hotels, boarding houses and restaurants have been notified.

Of interest to these establishments is the fact that the X-rays are FREE. Under the arrangements completed by the TB Society, there is no excuse for anything less than 100 per cent cooperation by all establishments and all food handlers they employ.

As a matter of fact the term food handler is very loose. Every employee who comes in contact with any operation of a service nature to the public should respond to the X-ray project.

It will begin July 6 with mobile X-ray units covering every section of Monroe County, so that travel distances will be cut to a minimum.

In Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg where borough law requires clerks in stores, meat markets, etc., to have chest X-rays, the TB Society project presents an excellent opportunity to comply with the law without cost to the individual.

This double-check on the general health of the region is vitally important. No employer or employee can afford to avoid anything but utmost cooperation.

Discouraged Anglers

Our sympathy goes out to those young foreign wives of servicemen who, because of a long-time state law prohibiting fishing licenses for those who are not yet citizens of the United States, are unable to join their husbands in their favorite pastime on nearby streams.

The story came to light this week when two airmen assigned to the Middletown Depot discovered that there was no way for their wives, one a Korean and one Japanese, to secure the coveted licenses and participate in the summer sport.

But there is some light in the darkness that pervades the homes of the two, for currently in the Pennsylvania legislature is an amendment to the fishing code providing that licenses may be issued to those foreign-born who have taken the first step to acquire citizenship. The bill, presently in committee, can be called up and passed if there are sufficient members of the General Assembly interested in according the rights of citizenship to those who intend to petition for such citizenship.

It is unfortunate, of course, that these two young wives of our men who have served in overseas theaters cannot participate in their favorite form of relaxation. The section in the Pennsylvania code having to do with non-licensing of aliens is of long standing, and was written in an earlier day when a great horde of foreigners descended on Pennsylvania to work in its big industries, men and women who had not learned to speak the language and who had little interest in the safeguards placed on the streams of the state.

But it would seem that this time is largely past, what with immigration quotas and the like, and it is scarcely in the American tradition of fairness to deny our citizens-to-be the privilege of enjoying Pennsylvania streams.

The first railroad bridge erected across the Mississippi river was built at Davenport, Ia., in 1856.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

"Model TV"

The recent two-hour TV show to mark the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Ford Company was epochal in more ways than one, and still has America pretty excited. At first it had us pretty confused. We had no idea it was to be the most revolutionary TV program in history, a program sponsored by a big-business corporation without a single interruption for a commercial! Unaccustomed to TV without a sales pitch, we had settled in the usual groove for one, and for a time we got the idea that the story presented was this:

Henry Ford, born of poor parents upstairs over the Variety office, moved to Detroit with a troupe of song writers and began his business career in a little bicycle shop run by Ethel Merman on Lake Michigan just off 42nd Street near Lindy's Restaurant. He got the idea of a horseless carriage from Oscar Hammerstein and developed it by working nights in the old Winter Garden with Mary Martin, who was in those days known as the 999 and steered with a tiller. Hammerstein, at that time, wrote by horse and buggy.

We gathered that, before fooling around with the horseless carriage, Henry worked in some sort of a dancing carnival with Wally Cox, who was at that time in "Birth of a Nation" with Theda Bara and Lowell Thomas. Henry developed a good ear by the light of a kerosene lamp held by Eddie Fisher, who was one of the Fisher Brothers, and his first backers were Kukla, Fran & Ollie, who later interested D-land Hayward. At that time Hayward operated on one cylinder and had prosthetic tanks. "They withdrew on account of 'Alexander's Ragtime Band,'" and Henry was about to abandon his car and join the Shuberts when a millionaire named Sinatra came to the rescue, putting in a lot of money and four songs. Henry soon put his first car on the streets of Detroit and called it the "Model Vallee," after a man named Bing Crosby, who used to be known as Valentino. Henry said he would produce a car to be sold to the masses for $500. "My car will be so successful," Henry said, "that some day I can afford to hire Ethel Merman and Mary Martin on the same program and not pass the dividend. Not only that but I shall build an empire with so much money I can make 'I Love Lucy' give up the Monday night hour."

Just about that time the program began to jell and get pretty wonderful. Suddenly we realized that Ford was not giving us any story of the Ford Company, making a sales pitch or insulting the intelligence of TV audiences. It was Kukla and the drag-on who gave us the tipoff. "Video has not grown up," said Ollie. "Maybe it will tonight," said Kukla. And by golly it DID! No commercials, no plugs, no jingles, no interruptions every few minutes to urge us to drop everything and buy a Ford NOW. It was just about the best show we had ever seen on TV, despite the two-hour stretch. It flabbergasted us. And it must have flabbergasted all the moneyed sponsors of TV entertainment. All these years they have been proceeding under the impression the audiences had to be coaxed over the head and slugged from behind with annoying, horrid and wholly insane sales talks. Well whaddya know!

Postmaster - General Summerfield plans to raise postal rates, upping the three-cent to four . . . The business of making correspond-ne expensive proceeds merrily along and it may yet be necessary to see a financing company before writing a letter . . . Everything in life has gone up, but it will seem extra tough to pay more money than ever to get off a love note when the cost of taking her to a dance and proposing in a taxi have pretty well ruined you financially . . . Henry Bridges has again been rescued by the courts . . . (I must have been two other fellows) . . . Frankie Frisch says that he could never remember signals when he played baseball and used to write them on a piece of adhesive tape which he then stuck in his hat . . . There will be no Washington investigation of baseball, so we guess all the Congressmen got their season passes okay . . . Tom Meany's "The Artful Dodger" is a story of "The Bums" that will keep you reading late into the night . . . The Preem, the race horse of Louis Prima, which ran in the Belmont (but not much) might have won with J. Caesar Petrillo up . . . Or else! . . . Eisenhower's "Noodle Deal" reminds us of the "New Deal." It's so different.

OLD TWISTER, NEW START

Robert S. Allen Reports

Economies Force Navy To Sell Two Huge Transports

Cutting Down

Washington—The Navy is getting set to hold an unusual "surplus" sale.

Due to budget pruning the Navy will ground its two giant RV Lockwood Constitution and put them up for purchase by the highest bidder. The 92-ton double-deck transports are the largest of their kind in the world. They can carry 168 passengers and a crew of 12. Ordered in 1943, the planes have had four years' service as part of the Fleet Logistic Air Wing. Many flights have been made carrying personnel and supplies to Korea. The Navy will dispose of the two huge transports as part of the economizing imposed under an $85,000,000 reduction in aircraft funds.

Also slated to be cancelled is the construction of 122 F3H Demon jets, one of the fastest Navy fighters.

Hobbled cupid—The State Department has extended its new loyalty-check system to the love life of its employees. Henceforth, before they can marry they must submit a detailed report on the career and activities of their mates . . . Representative Walt Horan (R., Wash.) thinks it's time that Capitol Hill modernize its police system. Under the present set-up, it consists of three separate police forces; 157 guarding the Capitol, another group of 79 protecting the Library of Congress, and a third force of 33 patrolling the Supreme Court. Horan wants to combine all of them into one force . . . General Bradley, General Collins and Admiral Fechteler will officially quit the Joint Chiefs of Staff on August 15. Their successors will take office on July 15. The overlapping will insure an orderly change-over. Also, it will enable the outgoing Chiefs to tour the principal military posts of the country . . . Attorney General Brownell has told the Senate Judiciary Committee he is junking a management study ordered by his Democratic predecessor. The survey of the Justice Department cost $32,000 and was made by a private company. Brownell informed the legislators he didn't consider the report's recommendations either practical or economical.

On Trial—President Eisenhower made two cryptic remarks about the cabinet during his recent Midwest trip. That's the word brought back by members of Congress who accompanied him. According to the story they are telling in the cloakrooms, the President, in two different conversations during which critical references were made regarding several members of his cabinet, said quietly, "No man is infallible, or indispensable."

None of the congressmen heard this statement themselves. Under questioning they admit it came to them second or third-hand. The reported conversations were with local politicians who, subsequently, gossiped about the incident.

The significance being attached to the President's reputed remark is that it's the first of any kind from him about the cabinet. Never before has anyone claimed hearing the President comment on this subject. There has been no hint he may be thinking about changes on the "team."

That's the interpretation being placed on the President's intriguing statement by the congressional legislators. There is no evidence there is any basis for that view other than conjecture. In Washington, it's an old custom to predict cabinet departures. Also, a number of congressmen have made no secret of their dislike of certain members of the Eisenhower cabinet. But beyond the alleged remark, the President has given no intimation of any cabinet revising being in the offing.

To all outward appearances the President is happy with his "team" and all of its members with him. The one possible exception is Labor Secretary Martin Durkin. In recent weeks rumors have circulated that the former AFL official is "dissatisfied" on various scores and is planning to resign. One of these tales went so far as to credit Durkin with already having written an article for a mass-circulation magazine on "Why I Quit President Eisenhower's Cabinet."

These reports have not been confirmed by any authoritative source, including Durkin. A top member of the White House staff, in a chat with former business associates, drew up a chart of the way he thought the President rates the 10 cabinet members. The President's aid stressed this was his own personal opinion. But because of the assistant's standing with the President, the former's friends considered his evaluation peculiarly noteworthy.

George Sokolsky Says...

We Need To Know How The Enemy Placed Books He Favors In Overseas Libraries

Nobody Burned Books

One of the advantages of not writing about every story immediately is that one can wait for the froth to blow away and for the substance to assert itself. The chance remark by President Eisenhower at Dartmouth College caused more excitement than was due to it.

No one has burned any books and if the President indicated that someone had, he was unfortunately in error, although I must say that it would cause little damage to civilization if the pornographic miseries that are being sold to our children on newstands and in candy stores were burned. Also some of the gaudy stories which substitute fifty expressions for skillful narrative could well be burned with little loss to anyone.

But the issue at hand has nothing to do with such crudities. It apparently deals with the millions of dollars that the American taxpayer spends on American libraries scattered over the world as part of our program of psychological warfare. These libraries are sheer propaganda. That is the sole reason for which Congress appropriated money for them. The design was that Europeans and Asians should be given an opportunity to read the best that the United States produces in the various fields of literature.

Richard Humphrey, Acting Director of the Information Service Centers of the Department of State, addressed the following letter to Senator Joseph McCarthy which I quote in full:

"In response to Mr. Schine's request of today to state in a simple sentence the purpose of the Overseas Library Program, perhaps the following will suit the committee's needs—the Overseas Library Program exists to reflect American objectives, values, the nature of American institutions and life and to utilize the books and related material to advance the ideas of America in the struggle against Communism."

This is a succinct statement of fact. It clearly defines the overseas libraries as agencies of propaganda. That is what they should be. But how is it possible to fight Communism and the Russians by spending millions of American dollars to set forth the Russian point of view in opposition to the United States and the American point of view?

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles put it clearly when he said:

"My own feeling is that books which are of an essentially propaganda nature, designed to sell Communism and be persuasive in support of Communism, should not be books on which we should expend the rather meager funds which are designed for quite a contrary purpose."

It is true that the McCarthy Committee uncovered the use that the Communists were making of the American overseas libraries, but neither Senator McCarthy nor his committee could remove one book or even a pamphlet from the shelves of these libraries. They had no authority in the matter. The order to remove came from President Eisenhower's State Department as the order to purchase the Communists' books came from Dean Acheson's State Department.

If these libraries are to show the best in American life, must they include works of men who denounce their own country and its government in favor of another country? For instance, how many Americans would be willing to say that Howard Fast represents the best in American life? Is it necessary for the United States to propagandize Howard Fast?

Somebody invents a slogan, such as witch-hunting, and immediately it becomes a propagandistic cover-all, to be used where it does not fit. For instance, why is it not right in a period of a cold war in Europe and a hot war in Asia for this country to inquire whether the enemy is employing a Fifth Column in the United States? It is known that this enemy has been employing native Fifth Columns in all other countries. Why not in the United States? Why should we be the exception?

Actually, we do know that Russia has not only used Americans for anti-American propaganda in the United States but has also used Americans as spies—and that is how they got the atom bomb.

Therefore, eternal, everlasting vigilance requires a constant scrutiny of the enemy's conduct within the United States. What we need to get excited about is how the enemy diabolically got into the affairs of the State Department so that he could put the books he favors and that favor him on the shelves of American propaganda libraries overseas.

Red Cross Issues Urgent Plea For Blood To Meet June Quota

Bloodmobile Here Next Wednesday

An urgent appeal for blood to meet the growing need at Monroe County General Hospital; for the fight against infantile paralysis and to supply the Armed Forces in Korea, was issued last night as county Red Cross officials prepared for the bloodmobile visit here next Wednesday.

Leroy Mikels, blood bank chairman, said 150 pints is the minimum quota for the unit's stop at First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The quota breaks down to 125 pints for use at the local hospital and the remaining 25 for making gamma globulin, the preventative for polio.

Last month the county Red Cross branch used 79 pints of whole blood at Monroe County General Hospital and supplied nine other pints for patients from the county in Philadelphia, Allentown and Bethlehem hospitals. The total was augmented by 25 pints which went directly to the polio program, reaching 113 pints allocated for the month, exclusive of those earmarked for the military.

Mikels said the increased war activity in Korea has resulted in an emergency request for blood that must be met this month.

Only 52 pints of blood were contributed May 26, last time the mobile unit was here. Mikels said the shortage of donations leaves at least 60 pints to be made up this month.

Mikels reported 37 pints of blood have been used at the General Hospital this month, and another 13 pints were sent to Philadelphia for transfusions for local residents. With two weeks remaining in June, Mikels said, the people of Monroe County and the national polio gamma globulin consumption will use 75 pints.

"The trend toward the fall-off of blood donations is alarming," the blood bank chairman declared. "Not only are we unable to supply our local needs and the needs of the gamma globulin program, but the Armed Forces also are receiving nothing at this rate. The need for blood donations is a continuing program," he added.

Mikels explained the maximum time that whole blood can be kept is only 21 days. Then it is fractionated and made into blood plasma. "For this reason," he continued, "a steady stream of blood donations must continue 12 months of the year. There is no vacation period during which whole blood is not needed. As long as there is sickness, operations and injuries, blood must be available at all times."

Blood collected through the Red Cross blood donor program is provided as a public service. Under no circumstance does the Red Cross ask for or receive payment for blood or the cost of collection, storing and distributing. Mikels pointed out.

Any resident of Monroe County may receive whole blood from the Red Cross blood bank at any hospital that is a member of the program. There is no charge for the service, the Red Cross leader said. He added "all blood used at the Monroe County General Hospital is supplied by the Red Cross without charge to the recipient."

Mikels concluded "a donation to the Red Cross blood bank is an effortless, painless and costless contribution to an insurance plan that is, at all times, available for personal use, or the use of a member of the family or neighbor. There is no substitute for blood, and the need is continuous and urgent."

$14,500 Loss Results When Truck Upsets

Saylorsburg — A Scranton man escaped serious injury here late Thursday night when his truck went out of control, ripped across the front lawn of a local property and upset, causing damages estimated at $14,500.

Operating a semi-tractor trailer truck owned by Fowler and Williams Co., Scranton, Scacchitti drove over a concrete culvert at 10:50 p.m., plunged through a hedge on the J. Janda property, knocked over trees and uprooted the terrace before the truck upset on its left side. Police said the vehicle traveled about 175 feet from the highway point where it went out of control.

Scacchitti climbed uninjured from the demolished truck, valued, with cargo of freight, at about $12,000. Damage to the Janda property was estimated at $2,500.

How often have you heard a man say—"If I only had a second chance..."?

Trouble is—too many take the wrong "second" chance. They take it on the highways. They speed. They chance the seconds they think they are saving against a lifetime. They lose.

Speed—driving too fast for conditions—is the cause of one out of three fatal traffic accidents.

The next time you are tempted to drive faster than the posted speed limit—remember you are tempting fate. The road seems clear... visibility is good—but there may always be the unexpected car pulling out of a side road...the unlooked-for pedestrian darting out of nowhere...the car passing another in the opposite lane but coming too close to you. Under those circumstances, it takes only a second to sacrifice a life to speed.

Don't take that "second" chance.

This message in the interest of highway safety is one of a series prepared and disseminated by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue.

VATICAN'S TREASURES

FEW PERSONS in the world today ever have seen the fabulous Vatican treasures—the irreplaceable mementoes which are carefully preserved in the Basilica of St. Peter's. On this page can be seen 16 centuries of such treasures, some of them shown for the first time. Many of the exhibits were unearthed from early Christian tombs or came to Rome as special gifts of kings, popes and wealthy nobles. One of the world's greatest collections of rare manuscripts, dating back six centuries, also is part of the display, including an edition of the Roman poet Virgil's works and some love letters of Henry VIII. The Vatican treasures are kept in fireproof, air-conditioned vaults. All of the material is available to scholars who come to the Eternal City to study.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

While the national and international news seeths and frothes on the front pages of the world, the social news keeps on quietly piling up in Monroe County. Makes an impressive total, though, doesn't it when you get a little room to show it off?

Nobody was calling up to find out whether it was true that it was a baby shower for Mrs. Jones, or if I'd had any further news about the color scheme for the wedding of Miss Brown to Mr. Green.

Just the same, even the front page news would dry up at the source if people stopped having babies, getting married, or being sociable.

The rest of the office may be bursting with news of accidents, erupting with arguments on the Rosenbergs, alive with speculations as to what the East Berlin riots mean, tangled in the rumor and statements on the Korean truce—and all the while the social news goes serenely on its way.

A church society plans a strawberry festival, a lodge will have memorial services for a member who died, a bride announces her attendants, somebody has a birthday, a Sunday school class contributes to the building fund, a fire company auxiliary plans its booth for the carnival.

Of course, we can't dissociate ourselves from the front page news which may eventually affect us all. Just the same it's a different world on the social page, and, I sometimes think, a world that deals in more real, more basic, and certainly more pleasant situations.

Fire Co. Auxiliary Picnics At Lake Lenape

Delaware Water Gap—The Fire Auxiliary picnic at Lake Lenape Wednesday drew 22 persons to that mountain spot for a covered dish supper. The men built fire in the fireplace. Mrs. M. E. Lefler made coffee for the crowd. While eating supper and enjoying the waning sunlight and low-hung silver dome of moon, the folks saw a deer come down to the lake for a drink.

After supper a brief business meeting was held with Mrs. Clifford Hauser presiding. Mrs. Geo. Hauser and Mrs. Mabel Lightner were appointed a committee to arrange for a mid-summer square dance in the hose house to which summer guests will be invited.

It was reported that fifteen tickets had been sold for the swimming meet at Shawnee Inn last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hauser, Mrs. Geo. Hauser, Mrs. Arthur Lehr Sr., and Mrs. Thomas Broadhead attended it.

The men of The Chemical Hose Company said that they plan for a carnival to be held the last Friday and Saturday nights in July and the first two Friday and Saturday nights in August. As in previous years, the women of the auxiliary will take charge of the refreshments, though the proceeds from sale of frankfurters will go to the Chemical Hose Company.

Lake Harmony Risks Perfect Record Against Reeders Rival

Mountain Loop Lists Five Games

Five games will play a major role in deciding the Pocono Mountains League pennant race on Sunday, when all 10 teams in the circuit battle to at least partially clear up the flag race that may develop in to a multiple club race right down to the wire. All games begin at 2 p. m.

Lake Harmony, the only undefeated team in the league, will pit its record of two wins and no losses against Reeders, the club that is currently in first place as far as wins and losses are concerned, on the Reeders field.

Reeders now has won five and lost only one contest.

In Race

Kunkletown, defending champion and only one-half length off the pace being set by Reeders at the present time, will tangle with Saylorsburg, two wins and two setbacks, on the latter's home diamond.

Tannersville and Bushkill, both supporting identical records of two victories and three reversals, will square off on the Bushkill field.

Tobyhanna and Barrett, both with two-and-a-half marks, will battle on the Barrett High school field in an effort to break their current tie.

Last, but not least, is the clash between Ansonia and West End A. C., on the latter's home ground, in Gilbert.

The Pocono Mountains League operates only on Sunday.

"Jughead" Captures Title

Asbury Park, N. J., (AP)—Thin, rawboned Jerry Roy, "Jughead," to his West Virginia neighbors, won the 1953 National Marbles championship yesterday with some fancy shooting and then mopped up a kiss for the girls' queen.

"Jughead," a 13-year-old seventh grader from Huntington, W. Va., notched an easy, 11 to 3 victory over John Gaetano, 13, of Throop, Pa., in the final round of the 28th annual National Marbles Tournament.

Asked by photographers to kiss Arlene Riddett, 14-year-old queen of the marbles shooters from Yonkers, N. Y., "Jughead," his face matching the color of the red baseball hat he wears for luck, hemmed and hawed and then kissed her a light one on the cheek.

Only One

It was such a skinny one that nobody was satisfied—except "Jughead."

He shot with the unerring accuracy of the mountain folk of his native state and at one point was so far ahead, his outclassed opponent was heard to mutter:

"What can you do with a guy like this?"

On his way to the title "Jughead" set a new world's record of 53 victories in 60 games played in the first four days of the tournament.

Johnny had hoped to become the fourth champion from Throop in as many years but except for one brief flare in the middle of the final round he was no match for "Jughead."

Father, Son Capture Shoot

Scores

In winning, William M. Hollinger, broke 99 of 100 birds put up in the first event of the three-day Pennsylvania skeet championships. He was followed by his son, Frank, who knocked out 98 of 100 birds.

Mass Flight

Jamie K Favored To Win Richards Stakes

Wilmington, Del. (AP)—Jamie K, the rabbit-chasing three-year-old from the Spring Hill Farm who came within two necks of winning two thirds of the triple crown, is the odds on favorite to win his first stake race today.

Light Impost

Olson Decisions Young By Wide Margin To Earn Title Scrap With Turpin In August

New York, (AP)—Baldish "Babe" Olson, a relentless barge puncher with a masterful left, won the American middleweight championship on a unanimous 15-round decision last night by slashing the face of durable Paddy Young into a bloody mask.

Qualifying for an August date with Britain's Randy Turpin for the undisputed world title, vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson, the Hawaiian-born San Francisco boxer proved too sharp and fast for the ever-gaming youngster from New York.

Still, at the end of the blistering battle, it was Young storming down the stretch, blasting away with his left hook that thrilled the crowd of 7,418 that paid $36-

250 into the Madison Square Garden box office to see the nationally televised bout.

There were no knockdowns in the fiercely-fought battle that was won decisively by the 24-year old lad from Hula Land. Stabbing, hooking, jabbing with his highly educated left, Olson did everything but sign autographs on Pappy's knicker as he rolled home like a three to one favorite should.

Judge Art Susskind, scored Olson a lopsided 12-3 winner in rounds. Judge Art Aldala had it 11-3-1 and Referee Pety Seazo 9-4-2, all for Olson. The AP card also scored 11-3-1 for the slope shouldered winner.

It was simply a case of too much fighter for Paddy to handle although the gamster never stopped winging with his free swinging style. Time after time he crashed home his payoff left to the body, only to run into another Olson barge.

Olson, 158½, to Young's 159½, sliced open a cut under Paddy's left eye in the 10th after red-dening the spot for several rounds. In the 13th, he cut Paddy under the right eye. With Olson also leading from a nose bleed, it was a gory finish.

Young's one big chance went a wingin' when he drove home a terrific hook to Olson's jaw in the second round. The blow caught Olson moving in. But Babe fought right back and shook up Young with a stinging hook to the head just before the bell.

Suggs, Berg Advance To Final Round

Atlanta, (AP)—Louise Suggs and Patty Berg, two painstaking professionals, ousted amateurs Pat Lesser and Dot Kirby yesterday in the semi-finals of the Women's Western Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Suggs, Atlanta's top money winner for the year, and Miss Berg, the dean of women golfers from St. Andrews, Ill., meet in the 36-hole finals today for $1,000 first prize money.

Hot

Miss SUGGS got hot on the back nine after turning one down. She fired two birdies and four pars to defeat Miss Lesser, Seattle's national intercollegiate champion, four and three.

Miss Berg started strong, finishing the front nine with two birdies, to take a four-up lead at the turn. The match ended with Berg winning four and two, when Miss Kirby, top Atlanta amateur, missed a three-foot putt on number 16 and conceded.

Penn Hills Wins, 7-4

Penn Hills Lodge took the measure of Square Bar in a softball game last night, 7-4, on the winning contingent's home field. Dick Miller pitched for Penn Hills and Elwood "Mose" Gordon for Square Bar.

Stroudsburg Speedway Plays Host To Stock Cars Tonight

A grudge scrap is likely at Stroudsburg Speedway today, when 50 Liberty Stock Car Association drivers meet in a five-event card that begins at 8:30 p. m.

The grudge is likely to develop through the fact that drivers from Easton have completely dominated both cards held at the half-mile dirt track located next to the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport this season.

Harry Charles, Easton, won the first feature event several weeks ago, while Jack Burgstesser, Easton, captured his first main event victory last Saturday.

Cardinals Run Wild Over Pirates

St. Louis, (AP)—"Vinegar Bend" Mizell, ably assisted at the plate by Ray Jablonski, "Rip" Repulski and Solly Hemus, hurled eight-hit ball as the St. Louis Cardinals took their ninth victory in 10 games, a 10-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

Repulski drove in four runs with as many hits and Hemus batted home three other tallies, two of them on a second inning triple.

Four Hits

Jablonski hit four successive times, including a pair of doubles, before "Peanuts" Lowrey ran for him in the sixth. The three had 11 of the Redbirds' 17 safeties.

Mizell gave up runs only in the eighth on a single by Johnny O'Brien with the sacks loaded. Two walks and a single had filled them.

The Pirates loaded the bases on two hits and walk in the second but left the men stranded. After two singles in the fourth Pittsburgh didn't get to Mizell again until the eighth. Mizell struck out nine.

Indians Shade Senators, 4-2

Washington, (AP)—Mike Garcia was staked to a four-run lead and breezed to his eighth victory last night as Cleveland defeated Washington 4-2.

Slice Lead

Garcia yielded eight hits and struck out seven as the Indians sliced the New York Yankees' lead to a still formidable 10 games.

Dominion

Four Easton drivers finished among the top five stock car pilots last week and the remainder of the field would like very much to have a different town present in the winner's circle at the end of festivities.

Dale Johnson, Reeders; "Flip" Bennett, Scranton, and Ray Fleming, Easton, will all be driving local cars in tonight's program. Johnson is returning to action after a serious accident last week that found the former Pocono High student flipping over on his side.

Last week's feature race was restarted six times because of accidents and four cars battled right down to the finish line before a winner was declared.

Some of the outstanding drivers in tonight's field will be Otto Harvi, Easton; Fred and Chief Fehr, Easton brothers; Joe Cryan, Oxford, N. J.; Joe Mushlitz, Bethlehem; Jerry Eagle, Allentown, and "Smoky" Dengler, the one-legged daredevil from Reading.

Three qualifying heats, a consolation grind and the main event will highlight tonight's card.

Plenty of free parking space is available.

Detroit Pilot Reported On Way Out

Detroit, (AP)—Sports Editor Bob Murphy of the Detroit Times predicted yesterday that the Detroit Tigers' 23-3 loss to the Boston Red Sox Thursday would mean the end of Fred Hutchinson as Tiger manager.

Referring to extended Tiger misfortune of this season and last, Murphy said "There seems to be an irrevocable rule in baseball: When things go wrong, fire the manager."

Time

"It may be a week or it may not happen till the end of the season, but Freddie will not be back to manage the Tigers for the 1954 season," Murphy said.

Detroit is very baseball-conscious. The Times published Murphy's prediction as a banner-line, page one story in its first edition.

However, President W. O. Briggs of the Tigers denounced rumors that he would fire Hutchinson. He called such rumors "absolutely untrue" and "a lot of bunk."

O'Neill Upset About Showing

Cincinnati, (AP)—"Only Richie Ashburn has played the way I expected," Steve O'Neill said yesterday as he scolded his slumping Philadelphia Phillies and described them as a bitter disappointment.

The usually jovial O'Neill, always slow to lose his temper, promised sweeping changes in the lineup if his players fail to snap out of the doldrums. He said the first change would be the subbing of Tommy Glaviano at second base for Connie Ryan.

"Few of our players have played the way they did in Florida and in the south, or the way they did when the season first opened. The zip is gone. Where it went, or why, I doubt if anyone can tell," O'Neill told reporters.

Roberts Hurls Phils To Victory

Cincinnati, (AP)—Robin Roberts, the winningest pitcher in the major leagues, scalped the Cincinnati Redlegs, 10-3, last night to register his 11th victory for Philadelphia Phillies.

Bangor Legion Blanks Wilson Borough, 2-0

Wilson Borough — Emlyn H. Evans, Bangor American Legion Post turned in a 2-0 victory over the Wilson Borough Legion last night, in a Northampton County American Legion League contest played here on the losing squad's home field.

It was the second win in three outings for the Bangor club managed by Jim Dietz. The team was held to a tie in its third outing.

Good Pitching

Bill Zanetti, an outfielder by trade, held Wilson runless and hitless for the first two and two-thirds innings last night, until Joe Antonucci, a product of East Stroudsburg High, arrived on the scene in the third to take over the mound duties.

Antonucci allowed four harmless singles the remainder of the distance.

Bangor won the game with a single run in the first inning and then came back with one more tally in the third to add insurance to the first frame score.

No batter in the game was capable of banging out more than one safety and there were no extra base hits.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Little League baseball is one of the greatest inventions since the tearless onion and has done wonders in its short history toward educating the youth of America in the wonderful game of baseball. It's a sport that can't be abused, if it is destined to improve the calibre of man and player in years ahead. Little League baseball is an educational institution and its value certainly can't be measured in terms of victories and defeats. Its value is limitless, providing the boys taking part in the game are handled correctly.

Winning and losing of ball games is strictly secondary in Little League play. Teaching of sportsmanship, hitting, fielding and respect are the main factors of the game. Little League baseball was founded to allow boys between the ages of eight and 12 to play the game under proper supervision. The game is a weapon against juvenile delinquency and diamond experts believe that in years to come it will result in an even higher calibre of major league play.

Sportsmanship is a term usually associated with sports, but in reality it goes hand-in-hand with everyday life. Those people who have never developed sportsmanship, or the ability to stand reversals, are playing in the game of life with two strikes on them. Decisions of umpires in Little League play resemble greatly the decisions that are handed down in everyday life. Sometimes they are favorable and just as often they fail to please one team or another. It is a fact that one team must be a loser in decisions by umpires, just as certainly as one club or another must be on the losing end of the final score.

Just the other day an area Little League team left the field before the end of the game, in protest of an umpire's decision. In my mind this is the worst sort of a move in Little League baseball. True, in the heat of a contest we often do things for which we are sorry later, but when kids are involved the careful planning is needed to drive home the important lessons of life. I don't believe that any sort of punishment should be handed out to the Little League club that walked off the field in protest, as I believe all adults and players involved have learned a lesson. The move has caused a great amount of comment in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg and in the rural sections of Monroe County.

This writer in no manner wants the ability to argue and protest a decision stricken from the game, but certainly as far as the youth of the nation is concerned, walking off the field in protest of a decision is strictly out of order. Teaching a youngster to walk away on his responsibilities and his pledge to the public is like teaching the same boy that two and two are five—it's all wrong.

Although no announcement was made concerning the fact, the game in which one team left the field in protest in the fifth inning will have to be awarded to the opposition by a 9-0 forfeit score. The losing team not only lost the chance to rally from a 7-5 deficit in the last two innings, but if the proper announcement is made by circuit officials, all players on the team will be deprived of whatever hits they made during the course of the ball game. This means that several betting averages that might have been improved will remain where they were before the beginning of the contest.

The effect on the youngsters involved in the contest may be marked, unless steps are taken to see that an occurrence of this type never happens again. In the major leagues a club leaving the field in protest and refusing to play not only loses the game by forfeit but is forced to pay a huge fine. The manager draws a long suspension and probable fine and the organization is censured to the extent of the law. In minor league baseball the same sort of punishment is handed out and it is not impossible for a minor league club to lose its franchise for an occurrence of this type.

Managers are almost entirely responsible for action of their teams, but umpires could guard greatly in stopping incidents of this type in the future. The men of blue in charge of calling strikes and balls, out and safe in Little League contests must be right, even more certainly than in a game involving adults. The youngness of age makes the umpiring doubly difficult, although I suspect that some umpires calling plays in Little League baseball take the chores less seriously because of the age limit. The officials must be on top of every play, in order to prevent unnecessary emotional upsets for the kids.

Little League baseball is great. It's something that can never be replaced. It leads directly into the growing Little Bigger Leagues and other junior circuits. It lays the foundation for high school, American Legion and college ball. It undoubtedly will lead to the professional ranks and maybe the major leagues. Protect it, improve it and play it to the fullest.

Eastern Pennsylvania Coaches Open Clinic Monday

Owens To Appear At Annual Affair

An outstanding array of teaching talent will be on hand Monday, when the ninth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic opens its doors for business at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

This is the eighth straight association clinic to be held at ESSTC. Marty Baldwin, clinic director, stated last night that approximately 100 student coaches will attend classes at the four-day school this year.

Ken Loeffler, LaSalle College's famous basketball mentor, is returning to the clinic for the second straight year, at the request of a host of student coaches also returning to the school for a second straight time. Loeffler has been coaching basketball in Puerto Rico this spring and is expected to fly back from the island today, arriving here tomorrow.

Loeffler will lecture on the various phases of the court sport that he has used to turn out successful basketball contingents in recent years.

Football will have a trio of headliners this season. Wes Fesler, the league grid mentor at the University of Minnesota, will lecture on the Split-T formation. Fesler, an outstanding collegiate star in football, basketball and baseball at Ohio State, also coached at Pittsburgh and Ohio State.

Pittsburgh Lowell "Red" Dawson, the man who brought the University of Pittsburgh back from the football depths, will be present to speak on both the Single Wing and Split-T formations. Dawson, as backfield coach at Michigan State, helped to build last year's great Spartan powerhouse before taking over at Pitt.

Floyd "Ben" Swartzwalder, Syracuse grid head, will direct discussions on the Winged-T formation. Swartzwalder, formerly of Muhlenberg, led Syracuse to one of its most successful football seasons in history last year.

Steve Owens, the highly successful and likable coach of the pro grid New York Giants, will be the co-featured speaker at the annual clinic banquet to be held next Wednesday, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Humorous Pete Carlesimo, head football coach at the University of Scranton, will share top billing with Owens as the banquet speaker.

Owens will also show films of last season's games involving the Giants.

Dick Harlow, one of the most famous coaches in history, and now a summer resident of Wayne County, will attend the clinic as a guest for at least one day.

Pen Argyl and Wind Gap also have entries in the circuit.

Cubs Divide Bargain Bill With Dodgers

Chicago, (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers ended a four-game losing streak yesterday as Russ Meyer hurled a six-hit 7-1 victory in the second game of a double-header with the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs won the opener 11-8, recording their fourth straight triumph as "Hank" Sauer, Ralph Kiner and Ransom Jackson hit homers—Jackson with the bases loaded.

Newfoundland, Daleville Risk Undeclared Records Tomorrow

Lake Ariel—Undeclared Newfoundland, with four games to its credit, and the Daleville Boosters, only a half game off the pace with a spotless slate of three straight, have cause for apprehension as their lofty positions and all-conquering manner face real threats for the first time this season in tomorrow's games in the Pocono Mountains Association.

The Bears meet a Wayne County neighbor and a real tartar in the Hamilton Highlanders, who have strikeout king Lee Chapman to recommend them, plus a quartet of sluggers, who could make things uneasy for the Bottomers, who will counter with slowballer Walter "Zeke" Vostie.

Daleville, Ione Lackawanna County team among the first four, crosses bats—it could be swords—with Goudsboro, which, after a slow start, has become a menace to the leaders with the return of the brothers Curtis: Sam, who was on Penn State's mound staff, and his battery-mate, Francis, also a student at the same college.

Kurdziel, of course, will rely on the wily Bob Haines, three-time league all-star moundman.

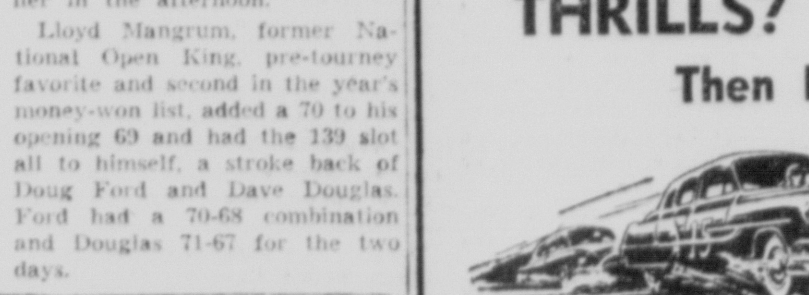

Form Return Tobyhanna, with the return to form of its pitching manager, Spencer "Spence" Walker, together with some hefty hitting by Stan Kolodzey and Mike Shinko, who are among the league's first ten, should be a shoo-in against Maple Lake, but one can never tell. Especially if the Komora, late of the defunct North Atlantic League, is in shape. Then, too, Jake Blumer's Lakers have shown a penchant to occasionally explode at the plate, no matter who the opposition.

Perhaps those who follow things baseball in the area will rush to the headline attractions, but there's no doubt but that the Moscow-Mount Cobb affair will have a goodly number of its faithful on hand to witness this battle between the "cellar champions."

Mount Cobb has taken advantage of a league rule permitting one "outsider" and will present George Kurilla on the mound. In his first IBW Downs Diner Tom "Elmer" Bonser crashed two home runs, both with the bases loaded, to lead International Boiler Works to an 11-3 verdict over Be-secker's Diner in softball last night. Don Gage was the winning pitcher and Strunk the loser.

Tobyhanna Batters Among Tops In Loop

Lake Ariel—Stan Kolodzey, husky, aggressive first-sacker of Tobyhanna A. C., is leading the Pocono Mountains Association batsmen with a sizzling mark of .563 in five games, records at the turn of the one-third way mark in the schedule, released yesterday, disclose.

The 200-pound, five foot, 11 inches initial sack custodian, reminiscent of a Notre Dame fullback, was at bat 16 times and registered nine safeties. He and a teammate, Al Komopka, who is not even listed among the 250 or better hitters, scored the most runs, 13 each. Another matey, Mike Shinko, was at the plate 28 times and likewise poked out the most hits, 11.

Above and just below Kolodzey are two ex-pros, Jerry Lynn of Daleville, the nominal leader, who though having seen only limited service, has aided the Boosters' undefeated status with .625, and the Komora of Maple Lake, who is a distinct threat as his .545 will indicate.

Hitting Pitcher Bob Haines, Daleville, is that club's real leader with .500 and what's more significant is that he is second among the league's pitchers, topped only by Walter "Zeke" Vostie of Newfoundland. The former has won three, the latter four.

Top sticksmiths on the other clubs are: Herb Buckingham, Mount Cobb, .500; Danny Santiso, Hamilton, .500; Bill Herring, Newfoundland, .474; Percy Heffernan, Goudsboro, .364; and Steve Ferko, Moscow, .359.

For the first time in a decade, Dick Dunning of Newfoundland, league batting king five times (1916-47-52 with Newfoundland and 1949-50 with Goudsboro) seems to have lost his spark, though he still sports a creditable .333 mark and could explode at any time.

Of three other monarchs of recent vintage only the names of Fred Roth of Goudsboro appears in today's listings. The others, Charley Visknesky, Moscow, and Joe Maystedt, Mount Cobb, see service only occasionally.

The marks compiled by league president Bill Prokop include only those players who have appeared in three or more games.

Tucker's Club Takes Measure Of Shaffer's Inn In Softball

Tucker's Chevrolet scored a 9-1 victory over Shaffer's Inn in the only Monroe County Softball League contest on the books yesterday. The game was played at Stroudsburg High School.

Gray Captures First As Tigers Nip Yankees

New York, (AP)—Ted Gray stopped the New York Yankees with five hits yesterday, 3-2, for his first victory after nine straight defeats, as Detroit rebounded from two disastrous beatings at Boston where the Tiger pitching staff yielded 40 runs in two days.

Ending the new Yankee winning streak at three, the Tigers came from behind with two home runs by Jim Deising and a scoring single by Jerry Friddy.

Joe Collins' bunt single, followed by Gene Woodling's fourth homer of the year into the lower right-field stands in the fourth gave lefty Bob Kuzava a 2-0 lead in his first start of the season.

First Run Deising gave Detroit its first run in the fifth with a homer into the lower rightfield seats. He led off the seventh with a drive into the rightfield bleachers, his seventh homer. Kuzava retired the next two batters but, after pitcher Gray singled, he was replaced by Ray Scarborough.

Singles by Harvey Kuenn and Priddy scored Gray with the winning run.

Yogi Berra was out of the Yankee lineup because of chest pains and Phil Rizzuto did not play for the third straight day because of a pulled muscle in his right thigh. Detroit 9-0 010 200 3 11 1 New York 0-00 200 000 2 5 0

Players, Fan Banished

Chicago (AP)—Two Brooklyn Dodger players yesterday were banished from the game and a fan was ejected from Wrigley Field for tossing a container of beer at an umpire in a dispute over Ransom Jackson's grand-slam Cub homer in the opener of a doubleheader.

Claim Jackson's clout which gave Chicago an 8-6 lead in the fifth inning came off leftfield catwalk and the Dodgers claimed it should have been a ground-rule two-bagger.

Shortstop "Pee Wee" Reese and centerfielder Duke Snider were thrown out of the game by Umpire Augie Donatelli during the dispute. The unidentified fan was removed from the park when he flung the beer cup at Umpire Jack Conlan.

Philadelphia, (AP)—Harry Dorish came in to stave off a ninth inning Philadelphia rally last night as the Chicago White Sox beat the Athletics, 5-2.

Clincher Bob Elliott provided the clincher with a two run double in the top of the ninth.

THE THRILL that comes once in a lifetime occurred to Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, when he hooked and landed a 34-inch grey-trout in the cold waters of Lac Nemiskachi in northern Quebec last Saturday afternoon. The large lake was landed on eight-pound test nylon line and took 40 minutes to bring him to gaff. The trout weighed 19 pounds and four ounces and had a girth of 24 inches. Accompanying Rev. Wunder on the trip was Eugene F. Rohlfing of Minisink Hills, who is shown holding the large trout. Mr. Rohlfing also caught several lake trout between 8 and 10 pounds. Baptiste Ottawa, 27-year-old son of the chief of the Manowagan Indian Reservation, served as guide on the trip. The two local fishermen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Burger at Kempt Lake. Also included in the catch were numerous walleyes, grey-trout, Northern-pike and speckled trout.

Large Number Of Pocono Resorts Catering To Honeymoon Business

By Leonard Randolph

There's no business like honeymoon business—so far as the average Pocono Mountain resort is concerned.

Just as all the world loves a lover, so do all the resorts.

For one thing, most honeymooners have a better time with less effort on the part of the social staff. No special organized volleyball games, no baseball and very little tennis.

Most newweds, on arrival at the average resort, are informed that such recreation facilities are available. If they wish to entertain themselves, the tennis court is there.

Where the honeymoon really needs its organization is in the planning stage, apparently. A good solid plan of operations for that "most important two weeks in life" may mean the difference between happiness and marital failure.

For this reason—in addition to their normal desire to make all their guests just as happy as possible—most resort owners take great pains in assisting the prospective honeymooners in his (or her) plans for a vacation.

The greater portion of this assistance is given by the resort itself in direct contact with the bride and groom. Thousands of brochures and illustrated color booklets are mailed out each year at the request of future Mr. and Mrs. combinations all over the country.

Some of the newlyweds make their selections of a honeymoon site through advertisements in magazines, metropolitan and local newspapers. Others take the word of married friends who have spent their first few days of married life in surroundings such as the Poconos.

Still others may contact the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau for information. The bureau has a complete, authoritative directory in stock and ready to mail out to such inquirers.

There remains, however, one other segment of the population which is reached by personal contact with a representative of the resorts.

These ladies (or gentlemen) are known as agents. They fulfill a function quite similar to that of it is their job to talk with the bride-to-be and her selected mate and help the couple set up a travel arrange a timetable, all in accordance with a specified budget in most cases.

One of these middlemen is a small, pretty, blond young woman named Betty White. Betty runs a heavenly-honeymoon-type center in New York, called, oddly enough, "Honeymoon Center."

According to New York columnist Mel Heimer, whose column appears frequently in The Daily Record, Miss White has had a lot of laughs during her years as a honeymoon arranger.

Take, for example, the time a young girl stopped in at the center and asked Betty if it would be all right to register her under her own name when she and her husband went on their wedding trip.

As Betty cocked an eyebrow up and quizzically, the girl went on to explain that she had married a man named Arshtepulovishky and she was afraid none of the other guests would be able to pronounce it.

Her own name had been Kelly, she said, and she thought it would make things a lot easier if people she met could just say "Pleased to meetcha Miz Kelly" instead of bothering with Arshtepulovishky.

Miss White eventually persuaded the former Miss Kelly that in no time at all the other guests would be calling her by her first name, and so it wouldn't make any difference.

Later on Betty began to wonder just exactly why the business about the last name hadn't come up before the marriage instead of after.

Most people are of the opinion that a honeymoon is a matter between two people who have nothing but their own opinions, desires and wishes to take into consideration. Not so, says Miss White.

Many times, she says, the couple brings one parent, two parents or, in extreme cases, even more, to the center office on Manhattan's 42nd St.

This peculiar circumstance prompted Miss White to turn down the only honeymoon in her professional career.

On that occasion the bride brought her mother along. Mom was the dominating type. So was daughter. Frail and henpecked (already?) the husband trailed behind.

Mother, the bride explained, was going along on the honeymoon because she and her little girl had never been separated before, and would Miss White please arrange the whole thing.

No, said Betty, she would not. Miss White serves as "agent" for several resorts here in the Poconos. Other resorts employ the services of agents in New York, Philadelphia and similar metropolitan areas.

One of Betty's first clients in the Poconos was Strickland's Mountain Inn. Edmund and Ann Strickland, who own and manage the popular resort, have been on Miss White's recommended list for nine years.

Strickland, who says his is the "original honeymoon hotel in the Poconos" seems very satisfied with this year's business volume.

June, 1953, has been "the biggest June in history of Strickland's," he says.

Actually there is no such thing as a "biggest month" for brides or honeymooners, if reservations in local resorts are any indication.

Honeymoon business begins in April, continues straight on through October, with brief pauses in between.

Strickland's is one of 30 or more resorts in the Poconos which cater to honeymooners either as part of their annual business or as an "exclusive" feature.

FATHER'S DAY

Every Father thinks of Father's Day in terms of his own children and their welfare. That is why so many fathers open individual savings accounts for their children; teaching them the value of planned spending and systematic saving; building self-reliance and leading to a future of financial independence. For this unselfish spirit, we honor the fathers of our community.
